

A chance to quiz chief secretary to the Treasury

CITY centre businesses will have the opportunity to question local MP and chief secretary to the Treasury Danny Alexander at a free breakfast on Friday.

The event at the Ramada Jarvis Hotel has been arranged by Inverness BID and will include a question and answer session.

"We are delighted to be providing businesses with the opportunity to meet and question Danny Alexander on local and national issues," said BID chairman Craig Duncan.

"In his dual roles as a senior minister and a local MP, Danny is in a unique position to be aware of local business issues as well as having a national overview."

Breakfast is from 7.30am and Mr Alexander will speak and take questions from 8am to 9am. To book a place e-mail [BIDmanager@inverness.uk.com](mailto: BIDmanager@inverness.uk.com) or call 01463 714550.
